

National Science Day

Basara Educational and Welfare Society (BEWS) will celebrate National Science Day on 28th February in Basara Shukul, P.S.: Saraiya, District: Muzaffarpur, Bihar, under the banner of Project Shakti.

This celebration is designed especially for adolescent girls and children, encouraging them to explore the wonders of science and technology in creative and engaging ways. The program will include a painting competition, where students can express their imagination through scientific themes, and an awareness session that makes science relatable, fun, and inspiring.

Through Project Shakti, BEWS aims to nurture curiosity, build confidence, and empower young learners—especially girls—to see science not just as a subject, but as a pathway to opportunity, innovation, and a brighter future.
