

On World Health Day (7 April 2026), Basara Educational and Welfare Society (BEWS) will host an engaging celebration at a local high school to promote health awareness among students. The program will include painting competitions, running events, speeches, and interactive games, encouraging young participants to explore the importance of healthy living through creativity, fitness, and dialogue. By combining art, sports, and knowledge-sharing, BEWS aims to inspire students to adopt active lifestyles and understand the value of good health as a foundation for personal growth and community development.
